In this thriving community the Bible Society has its place and its work. The Committee of the Auxiliary at Brisbane have not only provided for their city and its suburbs, but have established depots in the newly-formed towns on the coast, and in some of the far interior parts of the colony, where it is intended, as soon as practicable, to form Branch Societies. The sale of the Scriptures has been encouraging, though unfortunately checked for a time in consequence of the accidental destruction of t Depot by fire. This calamity was severely felt by the Auxiliary, as the stock was not covered by insurance. The Committee voted Scriptures to the value of 25, partly to make up the loss which had been sustained. This timely assistance was gratefully appreciated, and will no doubt have its return in the future liberality of the Auxiliary. A grant of Scriptures made last year for Sabbathschools has proved most useful. Copies have been solicited by persons holding small schools in the interior who, through deficiency of Scriptures, were compelled to use texts written on sheets of paper for their Sunday lessons. A fresh grant for the same purpose has been made by the Committee. The Auxiliary has remitted 60 on purchase account, and ordered 2,153 copies for the Depot. Ipswich.--This town, like Brisbane, is becoming populous and influential, and the Committee of the Auxiliary are anxious to promote the circulation of...
